Postscript

- As an artist who grew up watching anime, I've always found inspiration in its worlds, colors, emotions, and imagination. It's what guided me toward my own creative path. To me, anime is more than just drawings in motion. It's a space where I can relax, dream, and reconnect with my inner child.
- If you're new to anime and want to start watching, the list in this zine is beginner-friendly, featuring different genres and styles to help you explore what you might enjoy most.

- Can relate to viewers experience and emotions. each and every manga or anime creator has their own very unique style that potrays a theme or color palette. when making your own characters or story, try to create your own signature style or use some colors that will catch the viewers attention.
